the total cost of care does not start and end when medication is prescribed and dispensed tip of the week: do you know anyone who doesn’t like popovers? silly question; try this easy, made in a blender, recipe savings that result if they also meet quality-care requirements. what draws such a hefty price difference?